

Appendix A

Aarin the Baby Black Elephant

This little female is so excited to be in the world! She loves playing with all her aunties, especially when water is involved.

But this endangered baby is in trouble. Human settlements and infrastructure seem to be everywhere and her home is disappearing. She hopes there will be something left for her!

Elimu the Baby Black Rhinoceros

He may be little but this rhino has a big personality! But this critically endangered baby is at risk. Poachers are always out there, searching for the double-horned prize that is the black rhino. He wants the world to know that a rhino horn is only useful for a rhino. Please spread the word!